

Did you know?

Darling Fault

That India and Australia were once joined to help form the ancient super continent of Gondwana (pronounced gon-dwa-nah) and that the Darling Scarp follows a fault line called the Darling Fault? This fault was formed as the Indian land mass pulled away from the Australian land mass millions of years ago.