

Did you know?

That you can sometimes find old beach sand and shells on Forrestfield soils? This is because millions of years ago the sea came right up to the base of the Darling Scarp. As it retreated it left behind some of these marine deposits.